

Mr. Clement's Technology Education Classes

I hope this letter finds you all healthy and happy! We are going to continue with our distance learning for the next few weeks until we return to school. Here are the guidelines for our class that we will be following until we return.

- I will post an activity/activities for the week on Schoology each Sunday night.
- The assignments will be due on Friday each week submitted through Schoology or my school email at bclement@midlakes.org
- If assignments are submitted before Friday, I will give feedback on the work you have submitted and you will be able to resubmit the work.
- You can reach me through email or Schoology for help on the assignments at any time.
- Zoom sessions can be set up as issues arise where we need to communicate. If there are issues and a Zoom session is required, I will post in Schoology the link so all can attend.

Please feel free to reach out to me at anytime that you need to. I will reply to emails and Schoology messages as soon as possible. The work that has been submitted for the first three activities has been great. Please keep up the good work and I hope to see you all soon.

Mr. Clement
